

LikeLouis

one hundred percent good

Are you looking to take on a new challenge in a creative and highly motivated team working to make a positive impact in the world?

At LikeLouis we thrive to change the way we consume – and how we feel – through positive experiences that engage health-conscious people and inspire an active lifestyle.

I heard LikeLouis is different?

Like a lot of people, we aim for a healthy lifestyle. And to us that means not only taking care of our bodies, but also truly celebrating the time we spend with the people we care about. You know, a balance. So, you might say we were thirsty for a drink with an alcohol level that suited our socializing while also serving up clean, quality ingredients. Something a little different and with a great taste.

That's why we crafted Europe's first hard kombucha – a delicious, fizzy, refreshing, gluten-free, vegan, clean and low-calorie alcoholic alternative that does not hold you back.

Corporate Communication Manager (f/m/d)

Starting date: from 01.11.2021

Working hours: full-time

What we have to offer

- We have a great mix of nationalities and cultures holding the same ideals and values
- Huge load of responsibilities to share – that’s why you will have a big impact and your own projects from the start
- Fast-paced environment – we value short decision making and fast feedback loops
- Open ears – we are curious about new ideas and concepts
- Mentoring and trust – we support your professional and personal development
- Devote remote – work from home, from warmer places or during the night without missing out on anything

About your responsibilities

- Development of tailor-made content for all relevant channels (print, online, social etc.)
- Editorial implementation of all communication content
- Selection, briefing and coordination of external partners (e.g. agencies & content production)
- Creation of budgets for individual projects as well as monitoring
- Quality assurance, analysis and success control
- Close collaboration with marketing department
- Development, training and staffing of communications team

About you

- Completed degree in media, marketing or communication science
- At least 3 years of professional experience in the field of communication / editorial media work (online & offline)
- Experience in event and project communication
- Excellent project management skills
- Experience in media production and distribution (online & offline)
- A creative mind with strong skills in communication and implementation
- Structured and organized way of working
- Native German and fully proficient in English

Up for the challenge?

Please apply via cheers@likelouis.com with your resume, salary expectations and your desired entry date as well as any other information that you would like to share with us.

We are looking forward to hearing from you!

cheers@likelouis.com